

Tom Price

Presenter, Comedian & Actor

Tom Price is a Welsh comedian, actor and presenter living in London.

He is best known for his work as PC Andy in Torchwood, and as host of the Radio Wales comedy panel show What's The Story.

Tom's now a regular presenter on BBC Radio Wales with his own Saturday Summer afternoon show he's also the cover host for the Eleri Sion Afternoon programme and Bethan Elfyn Saturday music show.

Aside from this, his television and film credits include The Secret Diary of a Call Girl, My Family and The Boat That Rocked. He can currently be seen in the latest series of Ruth Jones' hit Sky One comedy Stella, and is preparing to take his new show "Tom Price: Not as Nice As He Looks" to the Edinburgh Fringe in August.

He is also sometimes the voice of the PG Tips monkey. Which is probably the thing his mum is most proud of.

For more information on Tom:

chris@northmediatalent.com

07989 396901

@NMediaTalent

NorthMediaTalent